Most auto repair shops quote labor charges using a "flat rate" manual or computer program that provides the average time it takes an experienced technician to perform a given car repair. That flat-rate time is then multiplied by the shop's hourly labor rate to reach the total labor charge for the service. Some people think flat-rate pricing is a scheme to overcharge customers. Actually, it is a system that allows shops to give fair and consistent auto repair estimates while paying ...

Basic Flat Rate Billing - What is flat rate billing? There's a history behind the development of the flat rate system, but "yawn", we don't need to go into that. Let's say you take your car or truck in for a water pump replacement. The mechanic looks up the repair in his book, and it tells him that replacing a water pump in your vehicle takes 3 hours. You're billed 3 hours labor for the repair -- a flat rate based on what the book says.
